TOP PRIORITIES IN BANKING

Trends in Banking

The future of banking is changing with changing consumer expectations, emerging technologies, and new business models. Banks will need to start putting strategies in place to be a leading player in the coming years.

The Fund management industry will prompt hiring around governance, risk, and compliance reporting methodology.

Investment banking is becoming more data-centric, transforming middle- and back-office functionalities into financial technology (FinTech)

Companies are shifting their focus from day-to-day operations to more strategic and opportunistic thinking. Speculations about M&A hiring to be the next trend are high.
